| From: Maxine |
| To: Paul |
| Subject: Is Tom really adopting a cat? |
| Hi Paul, How is school? I hope you're studying for your final exams. I was really surprised to read about Tom. I didn't realise that he was a cat person. I hope he knows that cats are not toys and he will have to take care of them, no matter which cat he chooses. If he decides to adopt the Siberian, he will have to take care of its fur. The Siberians have lots of hair as it normally protects them from extreme temperatures in Russia. The Sphynx cats, on the other hand, have no fur but it doesn't mean that they don't need any care – in fact, they need to be bathed and cleaned up regularly. Tell Tom I'll drop by to see his cat after I come back from Spain – I can advise him how to look after his new pet. Kisses, Maxine |

Text B

URGENT!

Two lovely cats for adoption!

The owner has to move away and take care of her grandchildren who are allergic to cats 😞

The Siberian – 6 months old, big and furry, requires regular brushing; she is friendly and very sociable, likes to play and go out onto a balcony or veranda.

The Sphinx – 2 years old, always looks for warm places, so he will sleep under a blanket 😊 he cannot go outdoors in the sunlight as he may get sunburnt.

Please help us!

| MESSAGE |
| From: Paul |
| To: Tom |
| Subject: CAT 😊 |
| Hi Tom, Have you decided which cat you want to choose? I can't wait to visit you once you bring it home! My sister Maxine promised to visit you as soon as she comes back from her student exchange in 1. _____ and give you lots 2. _____ on how to take care of your new cat. She says that despite having 3. _____, the Sphynx cats require a lot of care, even if they don't need to be 4. _____ regularly, like most cats with fur do. Also, the Siberian is 5. _____ than the Sphynx – she's not adult yet, so she may get used to you sooner. On the other hand, you said you wanted a small cat, and the Siberian is 6. _____ than the Sphynx. By the way, I didn't know the Sphynx cats are so sensitive and risk getting 7. _____ if they stay outdoors in the sunlight. Cats are amazing, aren't they? My neighbour has a Siberian and she says that it is really 8. _____ - it loves the company of people, and behaves almost like a dog. I would take the Siberian if I were you, but it's your choice. Take care, Paul |
